“Students here are open, friendly and helpful. I feel more confident, both in my communication ability and my willingness to try new things. I started working out and ran a five kilometer race.”

—SuYoung Park, Ewha Womans University, South Korea

UC DAVIS INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS OFFER WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION, INCLUDING:

Communication and Culture Program

This four-week course, with four hours of instruction each day, is ideal for participants who want an intensive learning experience within a short time frame. Offered in winter and in summer, the program focuses on American culture and conversational fluency with an emphasis on vocabulary building, listening, pronunciation, natural speech and idioms, and American customs. The core classes are U.S. Society and Culture, Listening and Pronunciation, Everyday Expressions and Idioms and an Intercultural Research Project. In addition, students practice in and out of class with UC Davis students as conversation partners and have daily opportunities to practice their English in social and recreational activities.

Teacher Training, Administration Leadership and Professional Development

Our professional development programs focus on areas such as active teaching and learning, assessing student learning, teaching with technology and action research. Designed to build confidence and preparedness among participants, these dynamic programs allow teachers to implement new action plans and create learning environments that reflect these new techniques. Our administration leadership programs help expand the capacity of school administrators to become transformational leaders who can identify critical paradigm shifts, create a guiding vision through inspiration and execute essential change with teachers and staff in order to bolster student academic achievement.
